MORTAL MAN REPUDIATED

Perhaps some of you were taught as children that man was first made from the dust of the ground, others may believe in the theory of material evolution, man evolved from molecule and monkey up to his present estate. If you have accepted either of these theories have you stopped to consider where wisdom, intelligence, kindness, charity, and love come from? Though you may be satisfied with the theory of evolution as an explanation of this mass of matter termed a body, that explanation gives no satisfaction as to the origin of the things which even to-day the world honors the most, namely the mental and spiritual qualities of man.
